The procurement marketplace for C articles

Purchase C articles efficiently

With simple system you can order over 7.1 million articles from over 200 suppliers by means of a free-of-charge ordering platform, thereby reducing the ordering effort to a minimum whilst still having complete control over costs.

The price and delivery conditions once agreed with your suppliers guarantee quick and smooth order processing – independent of the opening hours and location of the orderer. With standard, user-friendly and cross-supplier e-procurement functions and an integrated reporting tool, simple system facilitates your purchasing and minimises the processing time of the procurement process in all areas. Why make things which can be so simple unnecessarily complicated?

An overview of the details

- more than 200 suppliers
- more than 7.1 million articles
- over 1,300 active customers
- no charges and no investment risk
- bundling of your C articles on one platform
- one order and process logic for all suppliers and articles
- open system for demand-oriented assortment expansion and further suppliers
- solid, secure financial basis

simple system's product and supplier portfolio is constantly developing and expanding (see graphic illustration).

Comprehensive system services

- scanner technology for ascertaining demand
- user-friendly search technology, incl. comprehensive text, synonym and article search
- article comparison
- order and enquiry facility for unlisted articles
- quick registration of all articles for all suppliers
- improved article overview by means of a shopping cart for each supplier
- favourites lists
- own administration of the system: users, budgets, delivery addresses, catalogues and much more
- cost centre and cost category administration
- authorisation work flow
- quick and clearly presented evaluation by means of integrated reporting
- order status with booking of incoming goods and payments
- facility to link up to your inventory management system: OCI, openTRANS (XML), ASCII, ...
- online user guide
- multilingual platform – German, English, French and Italian

Purchase simply, quickly and systematically simple system satisfies!

There are good reasons to use simple system with the acquisition of C articles. Aside from the continually growing number of innovative and reliable suppliers, the simple system free multiple supplier platform guarantees the security, consistency and independence which a modern, cross-sector online procurement market place should offer.

As more than 1,300 other satisfied customers have already done, you too can use the great economic performance and reliability of simple system – future-oriented, simple and efficient. The non-binding guest access at www.simplesystem.com offers you the opportunity to get a picture of what simple system has to offer.

More and more customers are delighted by simple system.
